HIGH-VOLUME HIRING

Screen 100+ candidates without burning out

talvin

THE REAL COST

Manual screening is breaking your team

9hrs of admin per hire. 100 candidates = weeks of wasted recruiter capacity

42% of candidates accept the fastest offer. Your slow process is costing you talent

70% of screened candidates don't qualify. Most recruiter time is spent eliminating people

3 BOTTLENECKS

Where the process breaks first

01 The initial screen bottleneck

CV skimming rewards resume writers, not performers. Hours wasted on candidates who look right on paper

02 Scheduling and follow-up drain

Pure admin across time zones. Reminders, no-shows, chasing candidates — adds zero assessment value

03 Inconsistent evaluation

By screen eight, recruiters shortcut. Shortlists become unreliable. Hiring managers stop trusting them

THE SOLUTION

How AI changes the equation

24/7 screening, zero scheduling

Candidates complete AI voice interviews at any hour. No calendar coordination, no time zone math

Adaptive, not scripted

AI follows up based on what candidates actually say — separating rehearsed answers from real reasoning

Ranked shortlists in your ATS

Top candidates surface automatically in Ashby, Greenhouse, or Workday. No manual review required

THE PLAYBOOK

5 steps to screen at scale without burnout

1. Define criteria before opening applications — build interview questions around your top 3–5 signals

2. Skip the CV review — let AI run the first screen on every applicant automatically

3. Configure interview depth — lighter for frontline roles, deeper for technical positions

4. Use Job Tryouts for customer-facing roles — observe real behaviour, not rehearsed answers

5. Automate all candidate comms — invites, reminders, follow-ups. Recruiters review shortlists only
